

Testimony and Religious Epistemology

New Insights and Directions for Religious Epistemology Workshop
Oxford University

Tuesday 24 June, 2014

Seminar Room, Radcliffe Humanities Building, 3rd floor

- 9:00-9:30 Registration/Coffee, Light Breakfast
- 9:30-11:00 1st Paper: Rachel Fraser (Oxford)
Title: “Those Unwise People Still Dwelling in Their Senses’: Religious Speech, Moral Testimony and Audience (Mis)understanding”
Commenter: Max Baker-Hytch (Oxford)
- 11:00-11:30 Break
- 11:30-1:00 1st Talk: Trent Dougherty (Baylor)
Title: “An internalist, evidentialist, foundationalist, reductionist, egoist and otherwise unpopular account of testimonial justification”
- 1:00-2:00 Lunch (Catered)
- 2:00-3:30 2nd Paper: Paulina Sliwa (Cambridge)
Title: “Understanding and Knowing by Testimony”
Commenter: Alison Hills (Oxford)
- 3:30-4:00 Coffee
- 4:00- 5:30 3rd Paper Sandford Goldberg (Northwestern)
Title: “Can Anti-Reductionism in the Epistemology of Testimony aid the case of Justified Religious Belief?”
Commenter: John Hawthorne (Oxford)
- 7:30 Dinner

Wednesday 25 June, 2014:

Seminar Room, Radcliffe Humanities Building, 3rd floor

- 9:30-10:00 Registration/Coffee
- 10:00-11:30 4th Paper: Laura Callahan (Oxford)
Title: “Limits on Religious Testimony: Lessons from Morality”
Commenter: Peter Graham (UC-Riverside)
- 11:30-1:15 Open Lunch
- 1:15-2:45 5th Paper: Lizzie Fricker (Oxford)
Title: “Epistemic Trust in Oneself and Others – An Argument from Analogy”
Commenter: Mikkel Gerken (Edinburgh)
- 2:45-3:15 Coffee
- 3:30-4:30 2nd Talk: Jennifer Lackey (Northwestern)
Title: “Religious Belief and the Epistemology of Testimony”
- 7:00 Dinner